Ms. Williams, what can I say? This year has really gone by fast, and I almost hate to see it come to an end. The Lord has blessed you real good with many fine qualities. Take some advice from someone younger than yourself. (me)
The Lord loves you Ms. Williams

Stage Band instills enthusiasm in student body

Instilling enthusiasm in the student body is only one of the wide variety of contributions the CFH stage band makes to our school. Under the expert direction of Mr. Milton Smith, the band represents Cape Fear High in various events during the year. Besides being involved in many outside projects, the band gave two Christmas programs, one for all interested people in our community and the other for the student body.

This year the band has also given much time and effort to sports by playing at all home basketball games. Through many projects, the stage band has added much to many aspects of school life by their constant effort and interest.

Poise and charm grace stage at Miss CFH Pageant

On March 17, "My Fair Lady" produced an aura of enchantment and fascination at the eighth annual Miss Cape Fear High Pageant. As a galaxy of Cape Fear's ninety-six fair ladies promenaded down the fluorescent ramp, five judges were faced with the tremendous task of selecting thirty semi-finalists.

Competition resumed the following night as the field of thirty semi-finalists was narrowed down to ten finalists. After paintaking contemplation, the monumental decision was reached.

The spectacular dream of reigning as the beauty queen of CFH came true for Sandra Kay Bullard as she received the lovely roses, the glistening crown, the memorable trophy, and the coveted title — Miss Cape Fear High of 1977. Lisa Starling was selected as first runner-up and Ruthie Buie was second runner-up.

'77 RÉSUMÉ captures the unique quality that gives CFH its personality

The reduction of a year's worth of activities to a still-life montage of photographs, a school's story to a handful of paragraphs, and the friendships of 1200 students to a résumé of memories is the task of each yearbook staff.

The attempt is presumptuous; the failure of any group who aspires to such a foolhardy ambition is imminent. However, those who work on the 1977 Résumé have attempted the unrelenting problems of just such aims. Knowing the problems involved, this year's staff has spent many hours pondering over layouts, copy, and pictures trying to choose the combination of these that would best show this chapter of a year in Cape Fear High's continuing story.

Lynne and Sandra lay out the organization section.

Jenny and Greg make plans for the '77 Résumé.

The staff has attempted to capture the spirit and the frenzy of a years activities, the closeness and division that nine months of togetherness can bring, and the unique quality that gives CFH its personality. Pictures and words only hint at these things. You really had to be here.

HOOFBEAT records school activities

Newswriting style and journalism principles are only a small part of the day-to-day concern of the HOOFBEAT staff. Thoroughout the year the staff is involved in a whirlwind of activity that stops only when the school comes to a close.

Students in the journalism I classes learn the elements of journalistic style and procedures of newspaper work. They do the majority of the newswriting for HOOFBEAT. Journalism II students are charged with the more practical application of their newspaper knowledge and are responsible for the coordination of copy, layout, advertising, and business aspects of the publication.

The hectic life of a newspaper reporter is only glimpsed in the journalism classes, but this glimpse of a very interesting, challenging profession spurs many high school students into the journalism field.

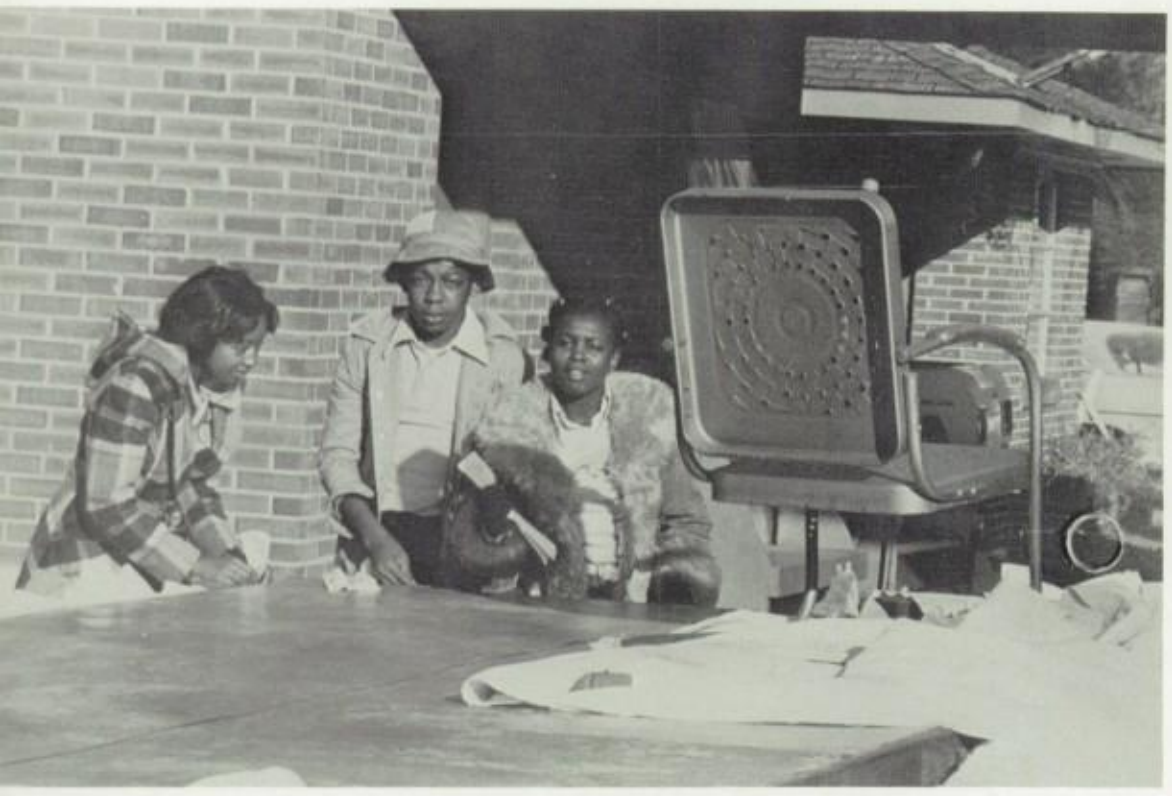
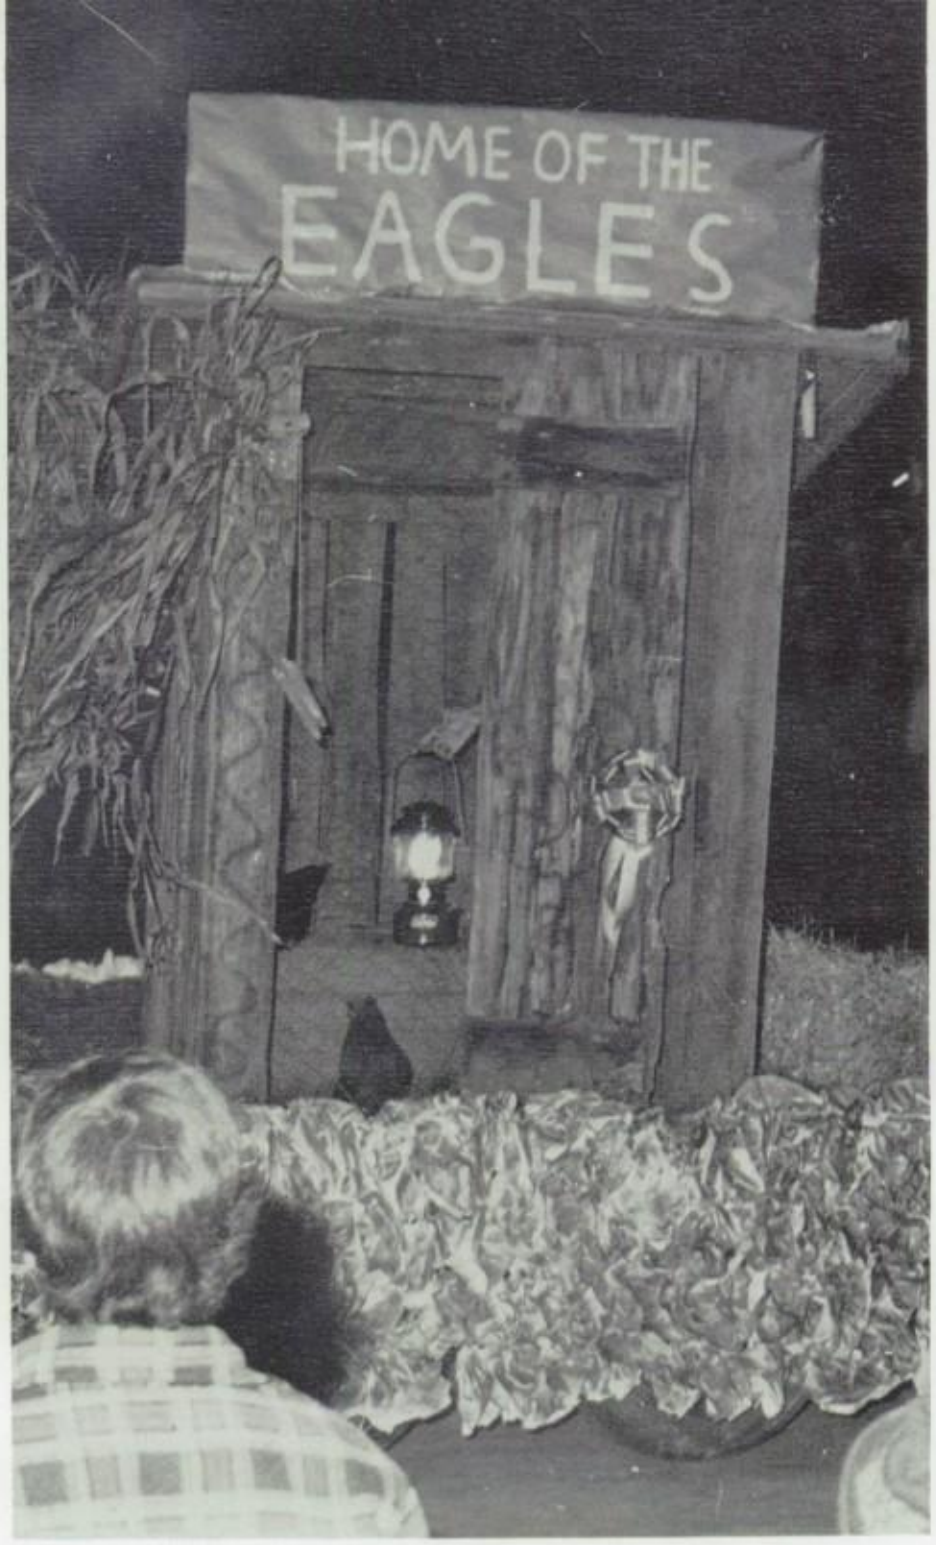
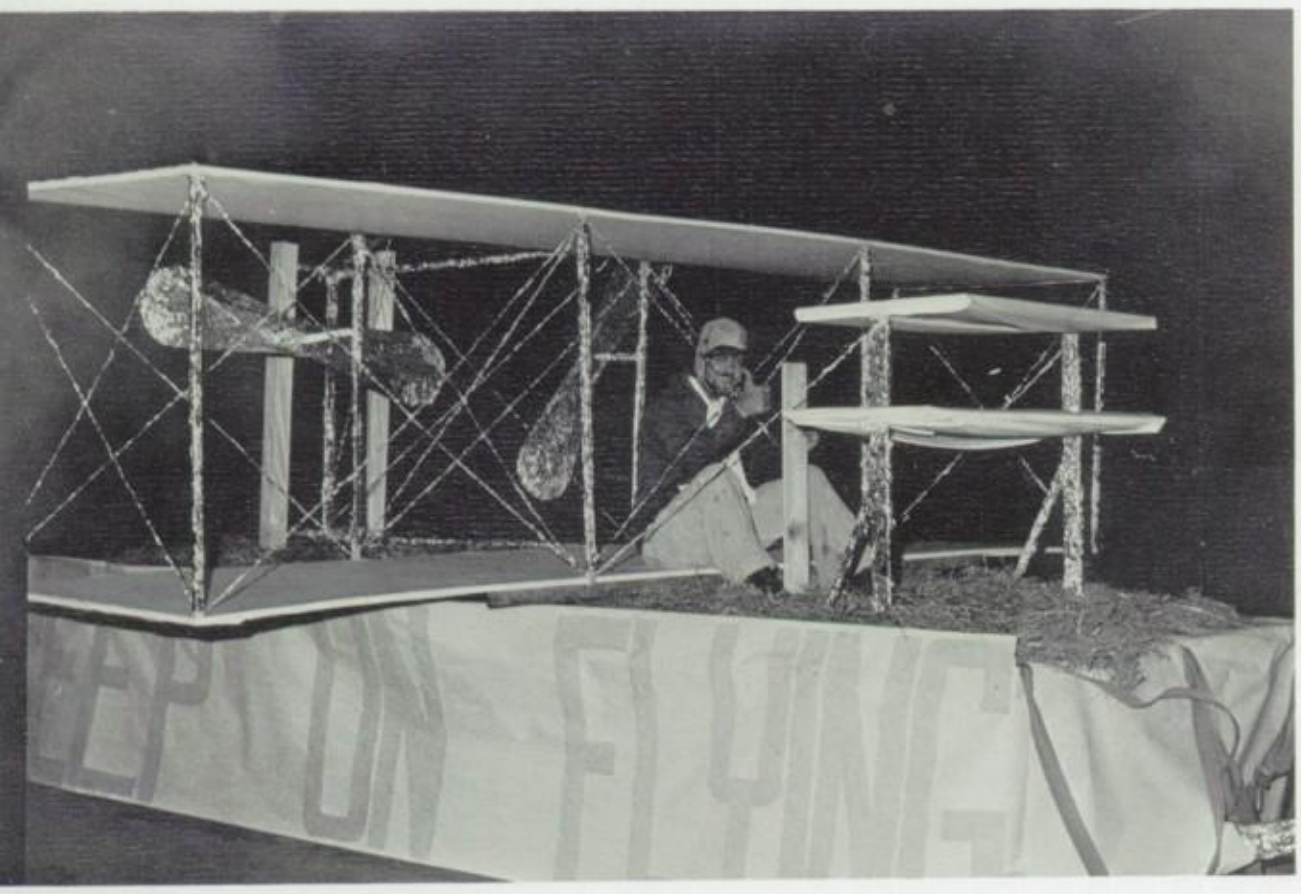
Key Club wins float competition at Homecoming parade







When the crisp chill of autumn settles in the air, it is apparent that Homecoming Week will soon be upon us. The week of October 25 ushered in many hours of fun-filled activities. Fifteen lovely ladies vied for the glistening Homecoming crown. The Seniors edged the Juniors in the pride chain competition. Students cheered as embers of the bonfire ascended to the sky. Creative floats paraded around the field during halftime at the football game. Unfortunately, the Colts fell to the Douglas Byrd Eagles in the Homecoming game. However, the culmination of months of planning still united the student body, teachers, and team with a sense of pride.

Judges select Tiffany McLaurin Little Miss CFH

The sophomore class staged the Little Miss Cape Fear High Pageant on April 30, 1976.

The theme, "Babes in Toyland," was reflected through the eyes of fifty-six adorable babes, ranging in age from four to seven.

Mr. Black served as Master of Ceremonies for this special event. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Tiffany McLaurin as Little Miss Cape Fear High of 1976 by Tina Roberts, the reigning queen. First runner-up was Margaret Lucas and second runner-up was Christie Daughtry.

Blue and Gold Day signifies honor, pride and patriotism

The Navy JROTC Unit of Cape Fear High School held its fourth annual Blue and Gold Day on January 12, 1977. This is a yearly event in which the new ratings and ranks are publicly announced.

The program was opened with an invocation and pledge of allegiance. Mr. Henry Clark, representing the Cumberland County Board of Education, presented the appointments of each cadet.

The new commanding officers for the 1976-77 year were announced. The position of Cadet Commander is held by Daniel Brinegar and that of Lt. Commander by Frankie Moore.

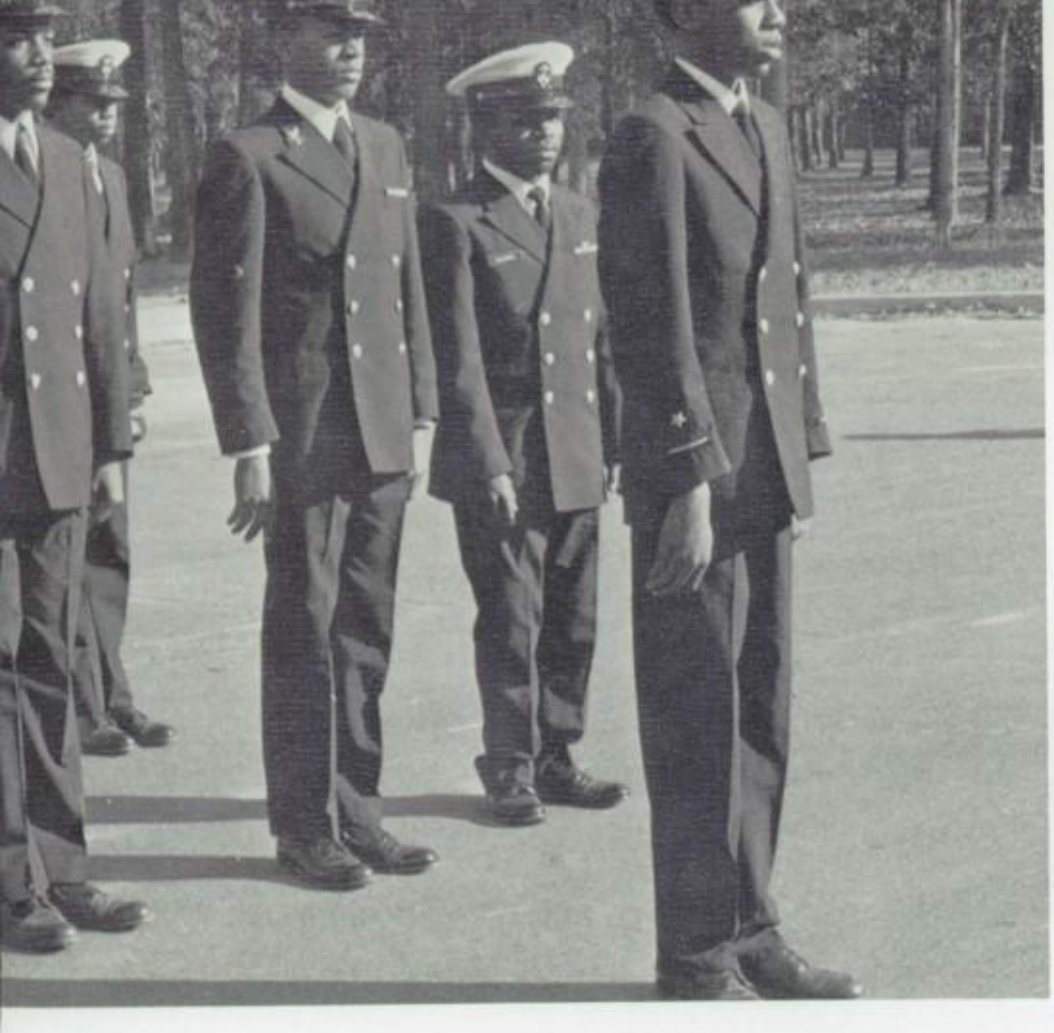
leadership and patriotism

Lynne



Outstanding seniors receive recognition for service

There is a certain quality of love and happiness that radiates from Daphne Ake. Her easygoing characteristics are outshadowed only by her quick ability to understand and sympathize with others. Her sympathetic nature and selfless attitude make her a true friend to her peers. She serves as FHA president and Homecoming Queen.

Determinded, consistent, and full of energy are just a few of the assets that Dan Horne possesses. His outstanding academic achievements are amazing and they earned his way to the North Carolina Governor's School. His leadership ability helped him to become the Southeastern District Beat Club Treasurer for the 1976-77 school year.

Always smiling and jolly Ronnie Johnson is a young man of great distinction. Being an athlete and a bus driver does not keep him from continuing his high academic status. With his leadership capabilities, he has earned an officer's position in the Navy JROTC.

Greg Melvin is the type of person everyone enjoys meeting. He is always friendly and understanding and has the gift of making one feel at ease while talking to him. He strives to understand people and life, not so much by speaking but by listening and observing. Known for his ability to succeed, he serves as assistant editors of the RÉSUMÉ and HOOFBEAT.

Willing to meet every challenge that faces him with determination and an open mind, Wayne Murphy has served as the ideal SGA president. His concern for fellow students has helped make him a success. Having fun while working is one of many unique qualities he possesses. He works continuously to improve school unity and pride.

Always happy and cheerful, Phyllis Saunders is a friend to all. She possesses many fine qualities, and one of these is the ability to express herself well and with deep meaning. With her high academic achievements, she served as chief marshal last year, and with her sense of responsibility, she serves as academic editor of the RESUME this year.

Mary Alice Smith fits the description of a lovely, feminine, young lady. She is the epitome of perfection in every sense of the word. Her sincerity is accompanied by an understanding heart. An outstanding and creative student, she has displayed her many talents as editor of HOOFBEAT.

Approximately only four percent of the nation's high school students earn national recognition by being named to Who's Who Among American High School Students. This year ten outstanding seniors have been selected by the faculty and administration for positive achievement in academic, athletic, and extracurricular accomplishments.

Quiet, reserved, but always friendly best describes Ted Videki. His dedication and understanding helps him to accomplish all he endeavors. Exemplifying a keen intellect he served as SGA vice-president last year and as senior class president this year.

Dependability and conscientiousness in all her pursuits have added to the success of Lynne Wells. Her sweet smile and high standards set for herself enabled her to represent Cape Fear High as the DAR good citizen. The quality of leadership is reflected in her service as Beta Club president.

Lisa West is an easygoing, determinded young lady with a vibrant personality. Considerate and affectionate, she has earned a special place in the hearts of her classmates. Dependable and industrious, she accepts each challenge she meets with calmness and self-assurance. She serves as senior class treasurer and feature editor of the RESUME.

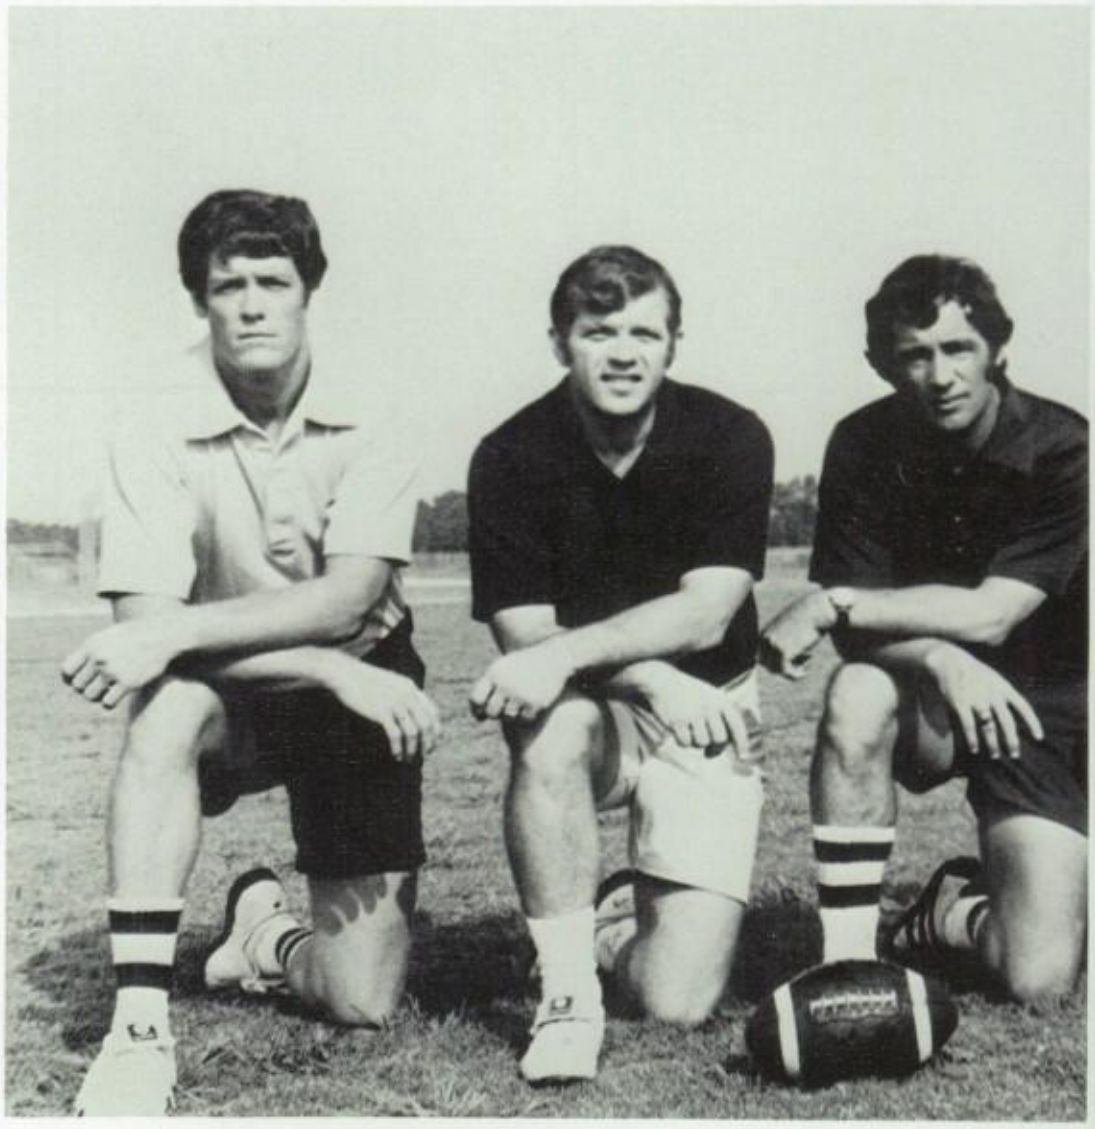
Colts begin rebuilding program under Coach Beck

Football . . . the game of physical combat . . . not individual against individual but team against team . . . a rugged game . . . it hurts, but only when you lose.

The hot and humid August days were endured with determination by the Colts. With only four returning letterment to the 1976 varsity football team, it was a season of hard work for the young and inexperienced team.

Under the leadership of a new head coach, Frank Beck, the young offense showed great improvement and promise of a successful future Colt team. The defense, under the guidance of Coach Hollifield and Coach Copeland, took great pride in their work.

The Colts optimistically view the future with 27 returning juniors. Leadership, pride, and attitude will be essential tools for building a winning team next season.



COACHES: George Copeland, Frank Beck, and Jerry Hollifield.

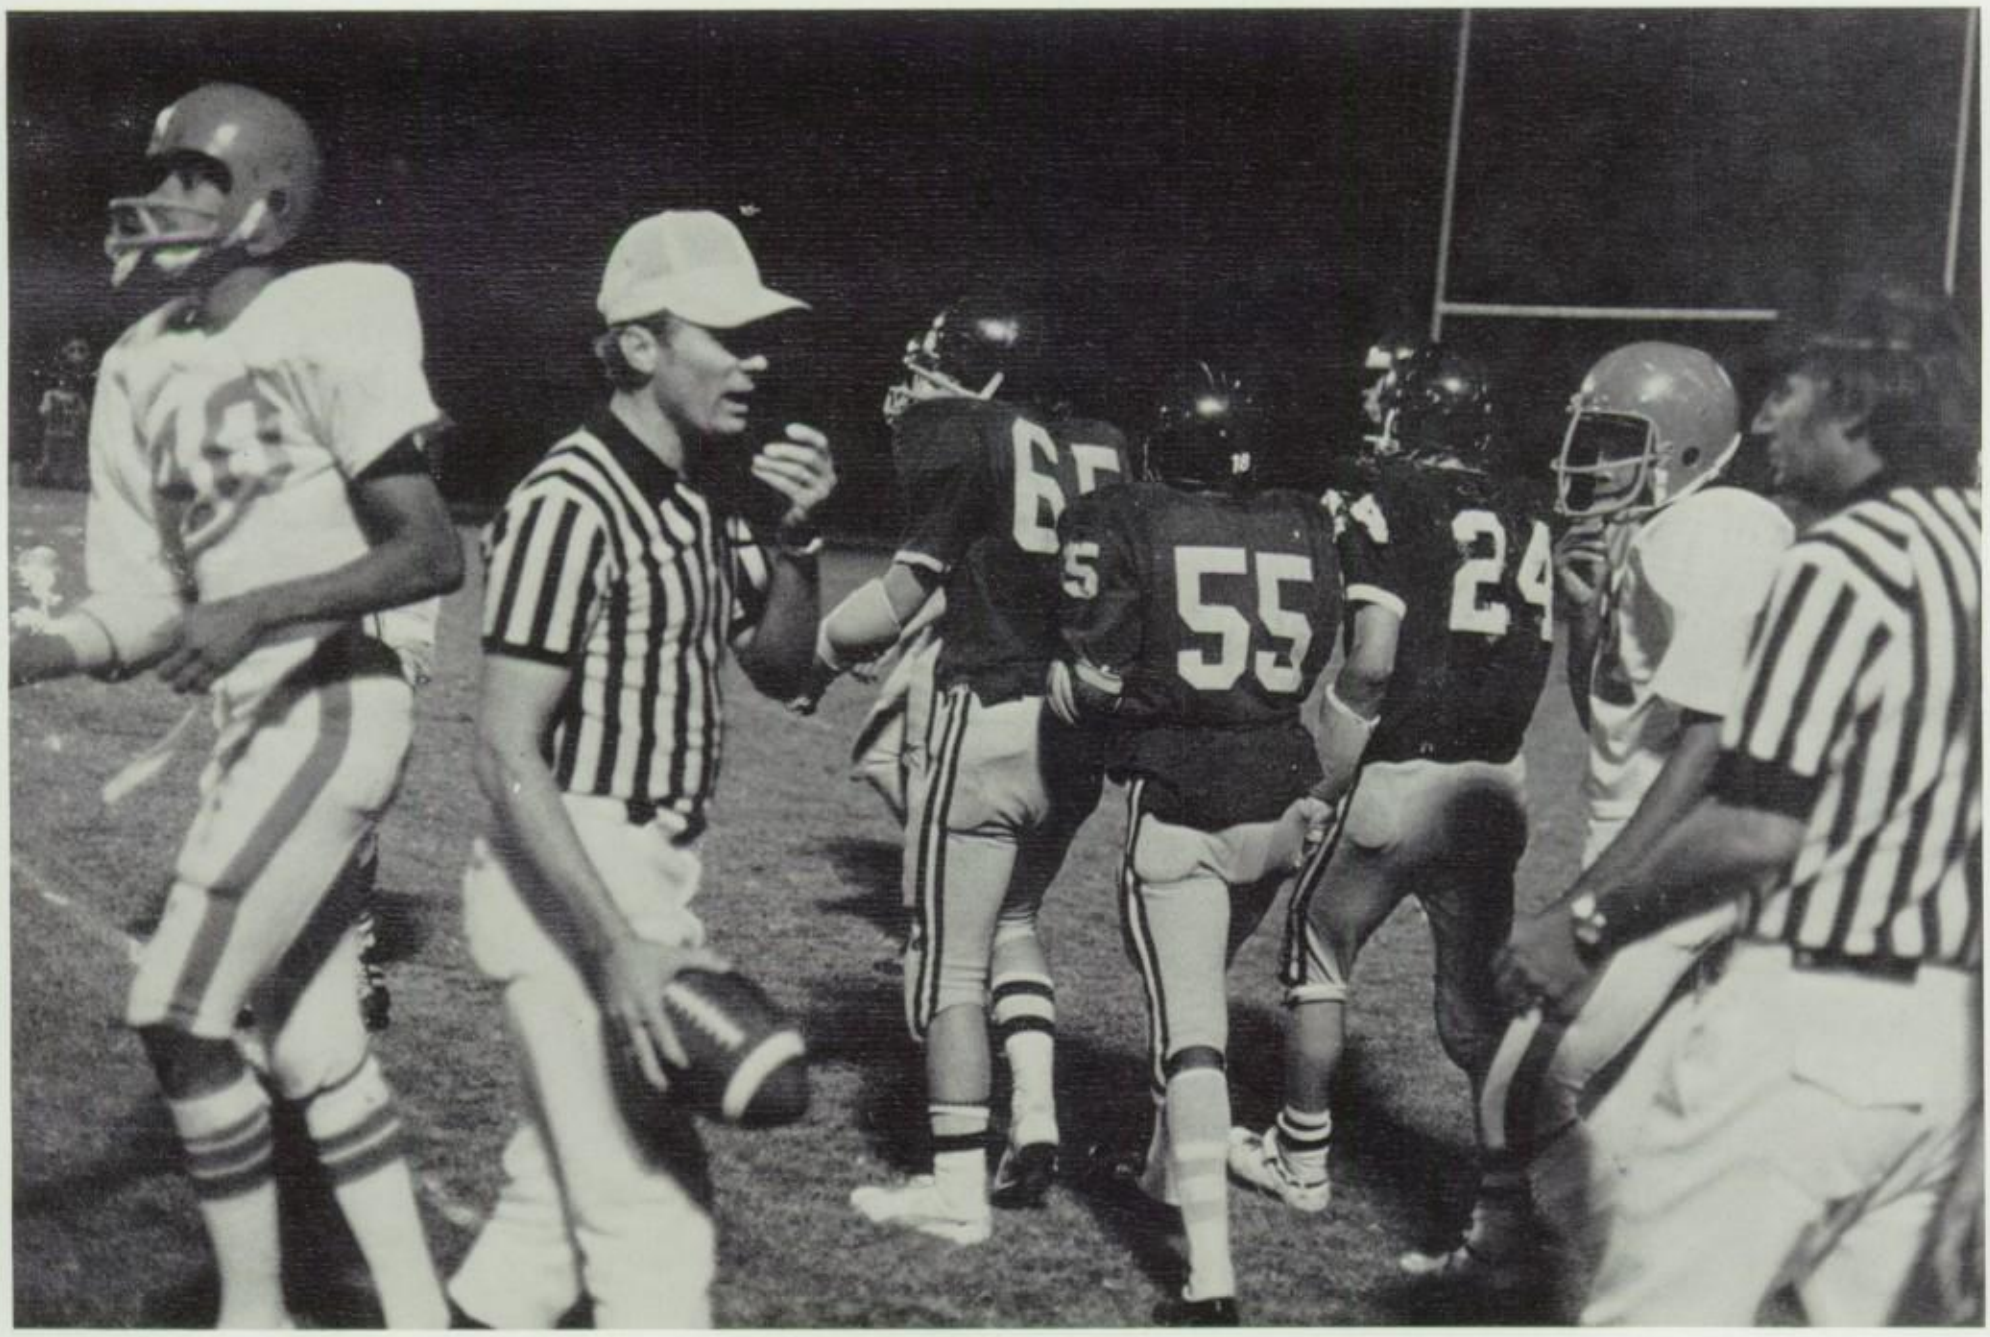
The 1976-77 Baby Colts upheld the tradition of a determined and enthusiastic team. These boys had a successful and rewarding season this year with a 5-5 record. The Baby Colts brighten the future for more years of success.



Since Rita Wiggs, a former CFH basketball star, has assumed the position of volleyball coach, the team has made an overwhelming improvement over last year's record of 8-9 to this year's phenomenal record of 16-4 and has placed third in the state playoffs. Girls' volleyball in this region is becoming a very popular sport. Cape Fear's girls rank among the top teams in the state. The key to our girls' success has been acquired through many long hours of practice, determination, and united spirit. The future for our girls is very promising and they will be looking forward to next year's number one position in the state.

Cross Country builds for the future

Cross Country is a sport of endurance where individuals can gain recognition and self-satisfaction. Under the direction of Coach Brock, the cross country boys are a hard working, dedicated, quick to learn, and eager to run group of young athletes. Although this team was much improved this year, it did not experience a winning season. Lacking in spectator support and student interest, the team is steadily progressing and is hoping for a winning record next year.

Girls tennis team advances to Sectionals

With the potentials to advance to state finals, the girls tennis team ended the season with a disappointing even win-loss record. Six members of the team advanced to the Sectionals in Pinehurst, and two seniors, Anita Allen and Donna Guy, advanced to the third round. Losing seven seniors to graduation, the girls tennis team will be in a transitional period of rebuilding next year.

Wrestlers bring pride and distinction to CFH

This year, as always, the Colt Grapplers retained their supremacy in Division III wrestling with a first place finish in regular season competition. The Colts, inspired by new head coach Jerry Hollifield, achieved a perfect mark in conference play. With nine returning lettermen, Colts' future appears very optimistic. Although lacking support, the wrestling team still managed to maintain the pride and dignity which has sparked the team to several winning seasons.

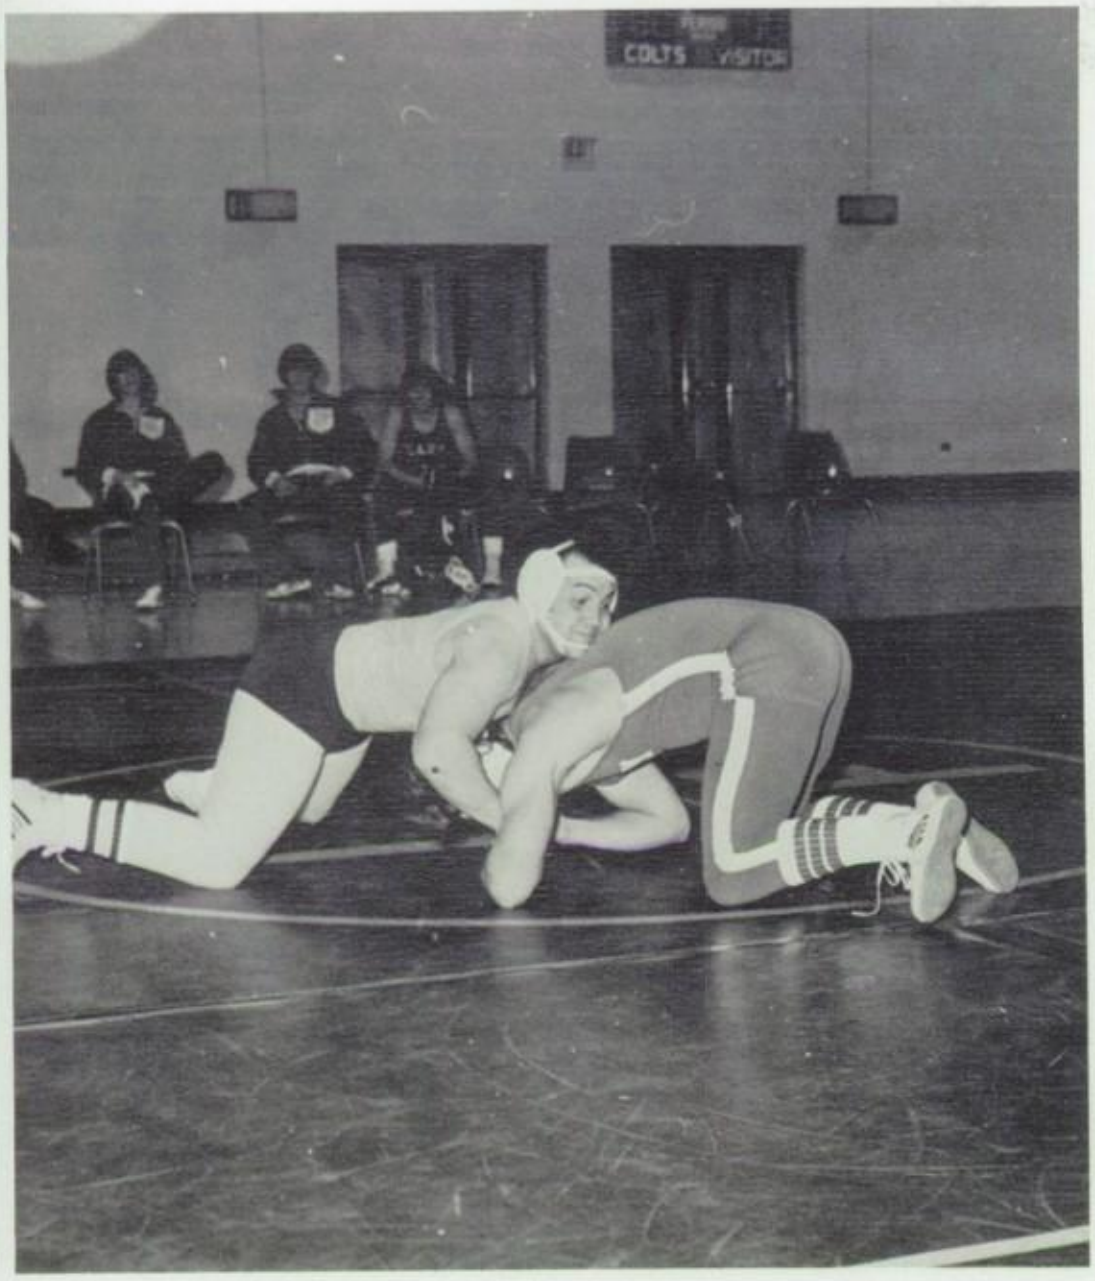
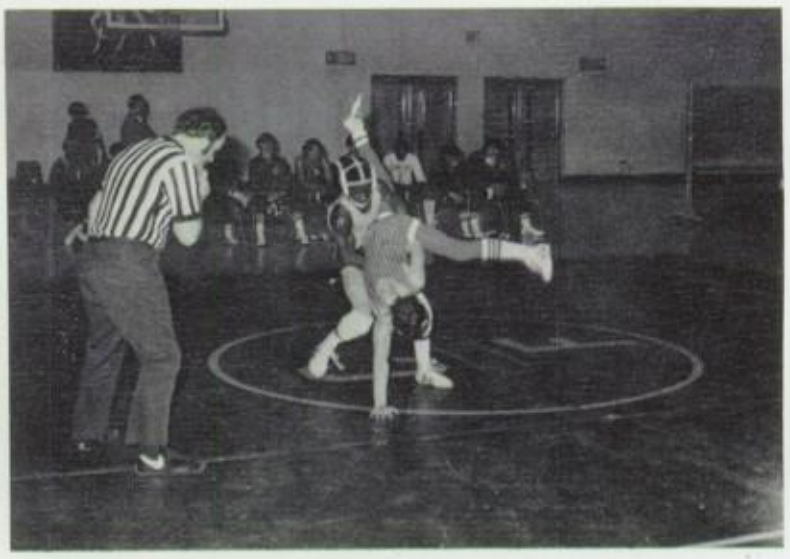
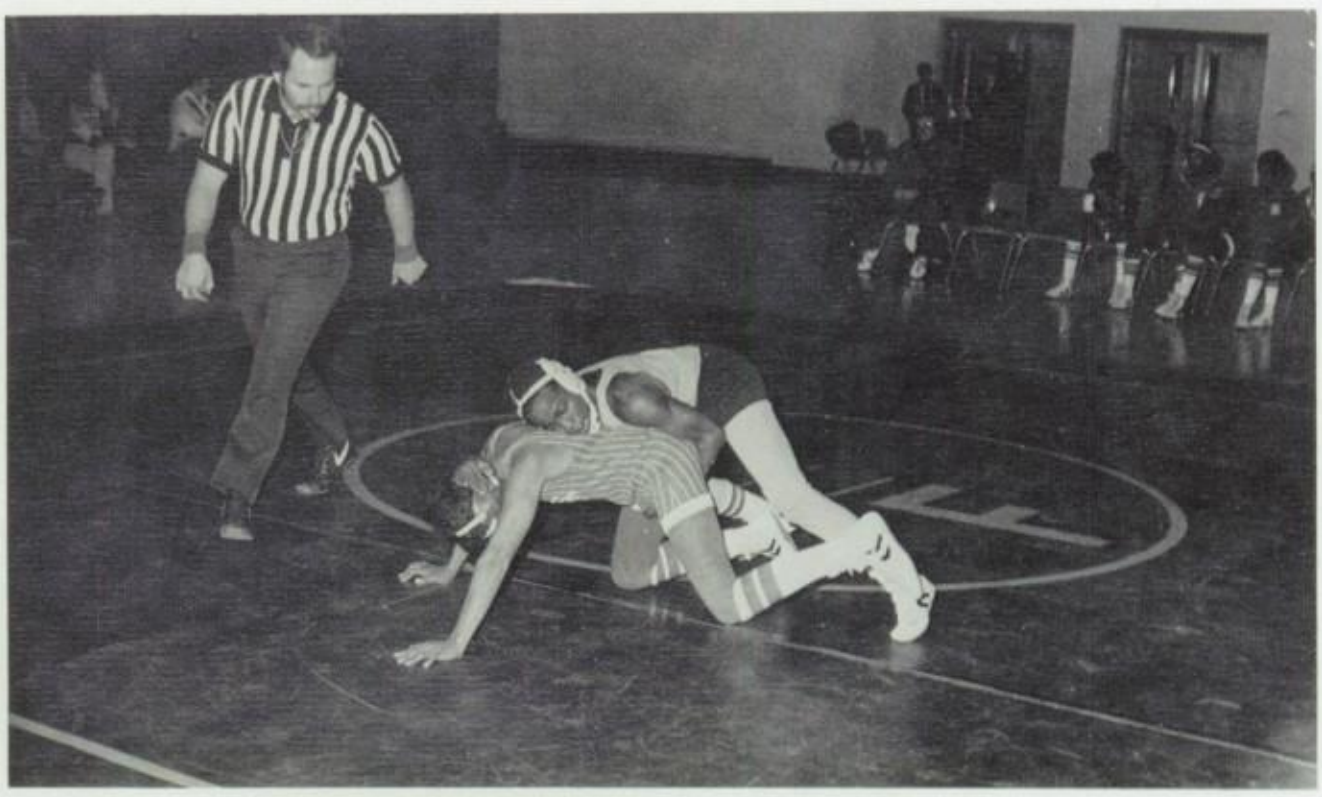
Wrestlers win Conference title







Varsity boys establish themselves a team of surprises

Here at Cape Fear the name Leon Brock is synonymous to basketball. For eight consecutive years he has been the driving force behind the mighty Colts. Changing his offense and defense as often as UNC's Dean Smith changes his, Coach Brock's continued success is the element of surprise. Integrating individual talents, teamwork, sportsmanship, determination and endurance, the underdog Colts in numerous games came away victorious.

Varsity girls show devotion, skill, and determination

Ability and experience returning to this year's girls varsity squad paved the road for another winning season. Under the leadership of Coaches Doris Howard and Rita Wiggs, the Lady Colts fought hard in this year's balanced conference. Many long week-day afternoons and every Saturday the ladies worked hard for perfection. The Lady Colts, only losing two letterwomen, have a mighty returning roster. CFH is proud of the Lady Colts and the outstanding performances they have shown this year.

The major purpose of the Student Government Association is to provide a central organization, chosen and controlled by the student body, which will have and exercise general powers of supervision over all individual activities in so far as they affect the school as a whole. Every student has the privilege of seeking positions of leadership in this organization, but all elective positions are faculty approved and conform to the Cumberland County rules and regulations as set up in the student handbook.

SGA is an active organization overseeing and coordinating all Homecoming activities, overseeing the activities of American Education and Brotherhood Weeks, and coordinating all schoolwide elections.

Tri-Hi-Y stresses leadership, brotherhood and service

The Tri-Hi-Y is one of the most dynamic organizations on campus. They planned, organized and implemented several projects which have been beneficial to the school and community. They also sponsored a needy family at Thanksgiving and collected toys at Christmas for the Salvation Army. They demonstrated being a service organization by service at the annual Navy JROTC Banquet in March and at the District Four Key Club Banquet in April.

One of their major goals this year has been the purchasing of a new typewriter for the teachers.

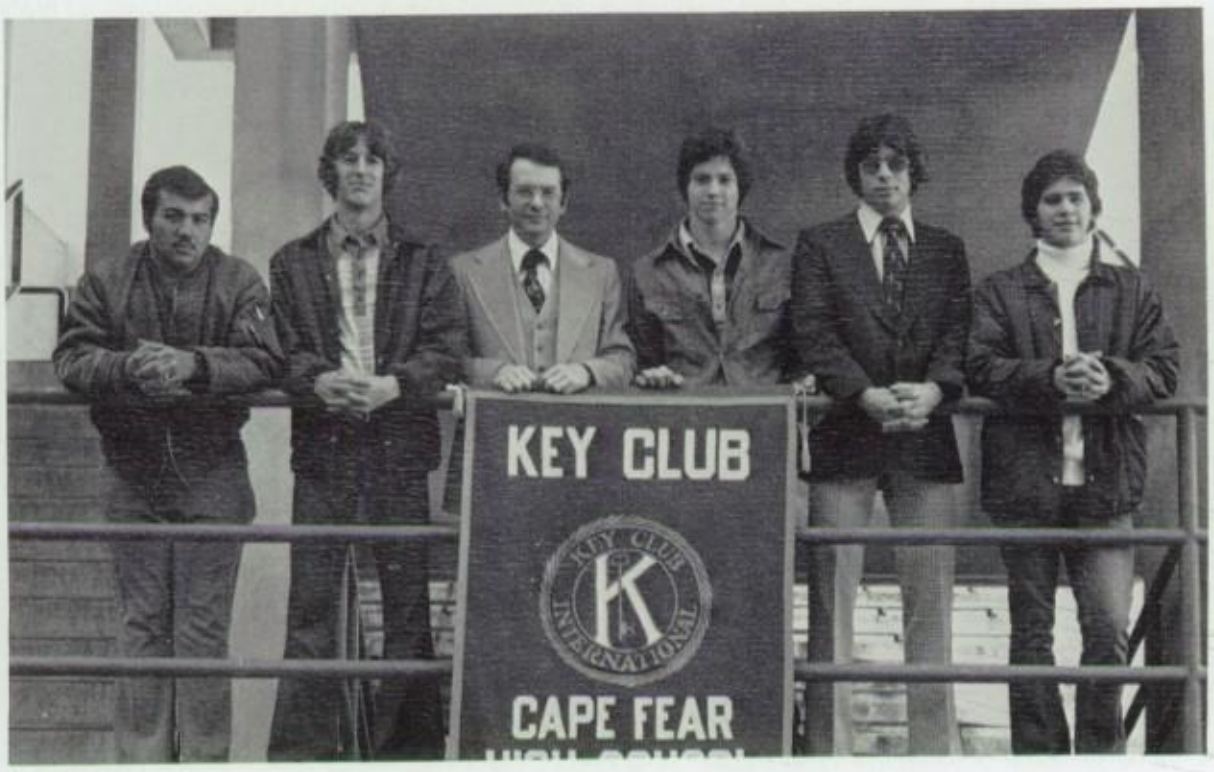
Key Club provides service for school and community

The Key Club's primary organizational aim is to develop in young men the potential qualities of leadership for which there may be no other outlets. Knowing that problem solving abilities and decision making skills are defined and perfected through experience, the advisors of Key Clubs are constantly creating opportunities for self-expression and personality development.

The Key Club is an integral part of many young men's lives at Cape Fear High. The hope of chapter leaders is th the members will use the experiences and retain the val from Key Club membership in their later years.



KEY CLUB OFFICERS: Ronnie Johnson, Sergeant-at-arms; Mike Strickland, Vice President; Mr. Black, Sponsor; Clint Piland, President; Ted Videki, Secretary; and Mark Mueller, Treasurer.

Dedicated Betas hold title of

The Cape Fear High Chapter of the National Beta Club was established to uphold the ideals of achievement, character, and leadership. With much pride one can confidently say this year has been no exception.

Under the watchful eyes of the sponsor, Mr. Tony Bass, ninety-nine members have helped the club to maintain the image of Cape Fear High's most prestigious organization.

The Beta Club, in addition to being an active member of the Southeastern District, has contributed much to the school. Betas have patronized many school functions, made donations to the North Carolina Burn Center, held an induction assembly, conducted an essay contest and pride chain competition during Homecoming Week, and sponsored a scholarship open to all senior Betas.

Interact becomes the new kid on the block

The 1976-77 school year marked the beginning for CFH's newest club, Interact. Not only is the Interact Social Studies Club new to us, but also it is the only one in existence in the county and possibly in the state. Under the supervision of co-sponsors Mrs. Damron and Mr. Swain, they help the officers and members achieve the goal of total involvement in the club, school, and community.

Interact participates in various school projects. Some of the year's activities are a dinner meeting and Super Costume Night, climaxed by an authentic Roman Banquet.

VICA stimulates a willingness to work

The letters V I C A stand for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The two Classes at Cape Fear High included in the club are drafting and auto mechanics.

The main activities of VICA are preparing for the state, local, and national conventions which are held each year. Members enter competition for various areas dealing with industry. Being a young club, this year's VICA will strive to better the organization for future years. Fund raising to allow members to go to conventions will also be an important activity.

The purpose of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is to prepare young men and women for careers in America's diverse industries and to promote a willingness to work.

Drama Club promotes school and community interest in the theatre

The Cape Fear Players is a newly organized club which hopes to promote school and community interest in the theatre and in other performing arts. Approximately twenty-five dedicated students are responsible for producing quality educational theatre for Cape Fear High. This year, the clubs' projects included the presentation of a comedy, Arsenic and Old Lace, and a spring musical. The students and their sponsor, Miss Rein, spent many hours after school rehearsing, building sets, searching for props, preparing costumes, and, of course, planning the cast parties!

Miss Williamson
"Debbie"
You have really been a big help for me this year. I like you very much and you are a wonderful person. Please be good and try to stay out of trouble I realize it will be hard but I know you will do your best. If it were not for you and Mr. Rice I can't imagine what kind of year this would have turned out to be. But since you were here and would listen to my problems it has been one of my better years. The best I can remember.

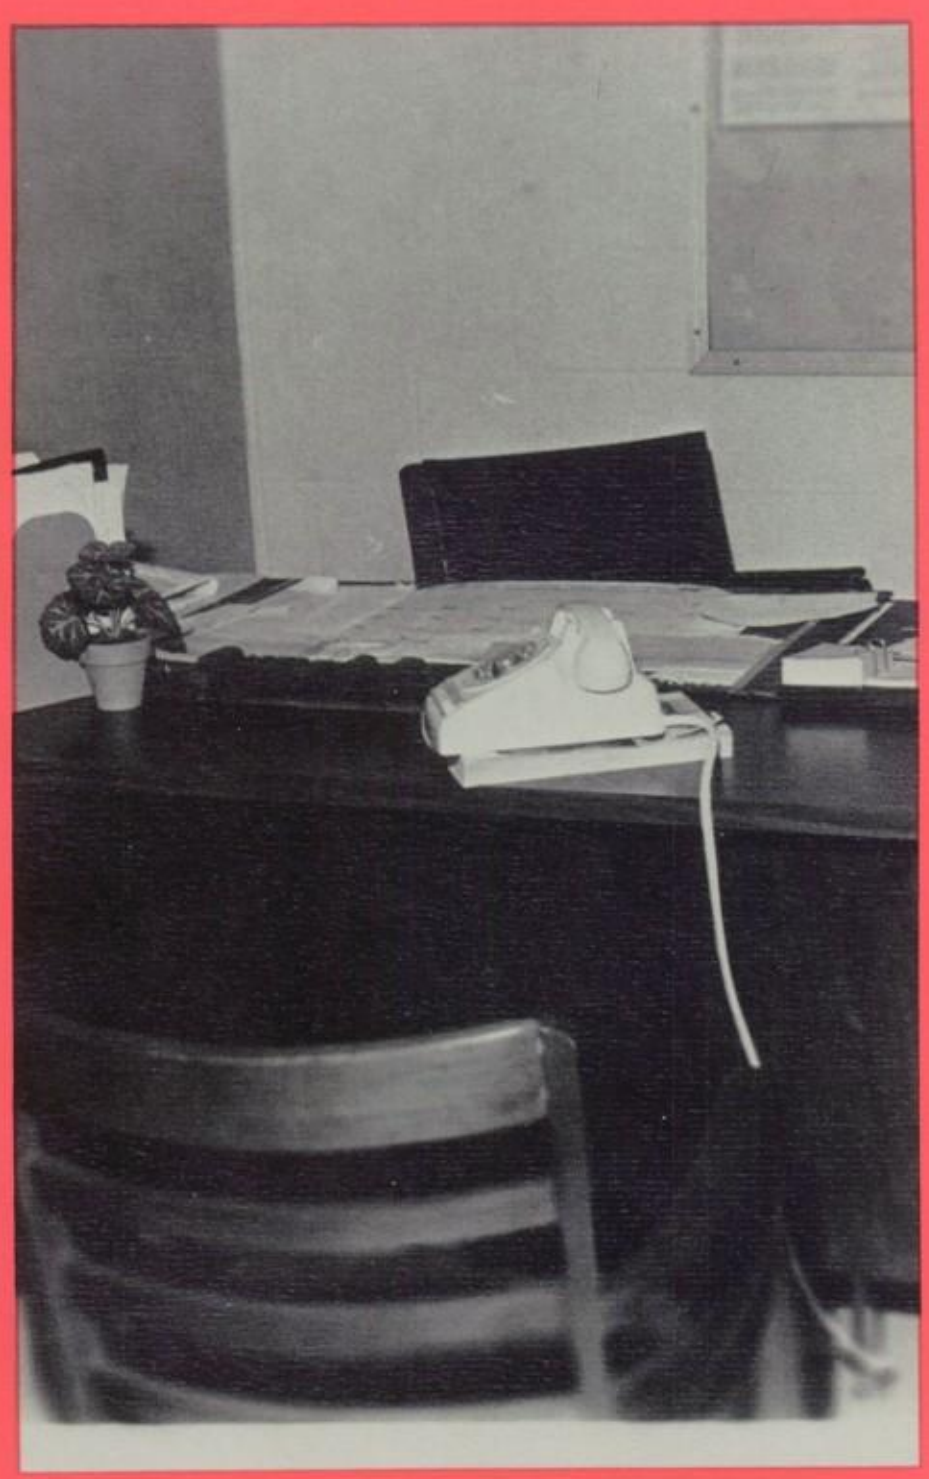
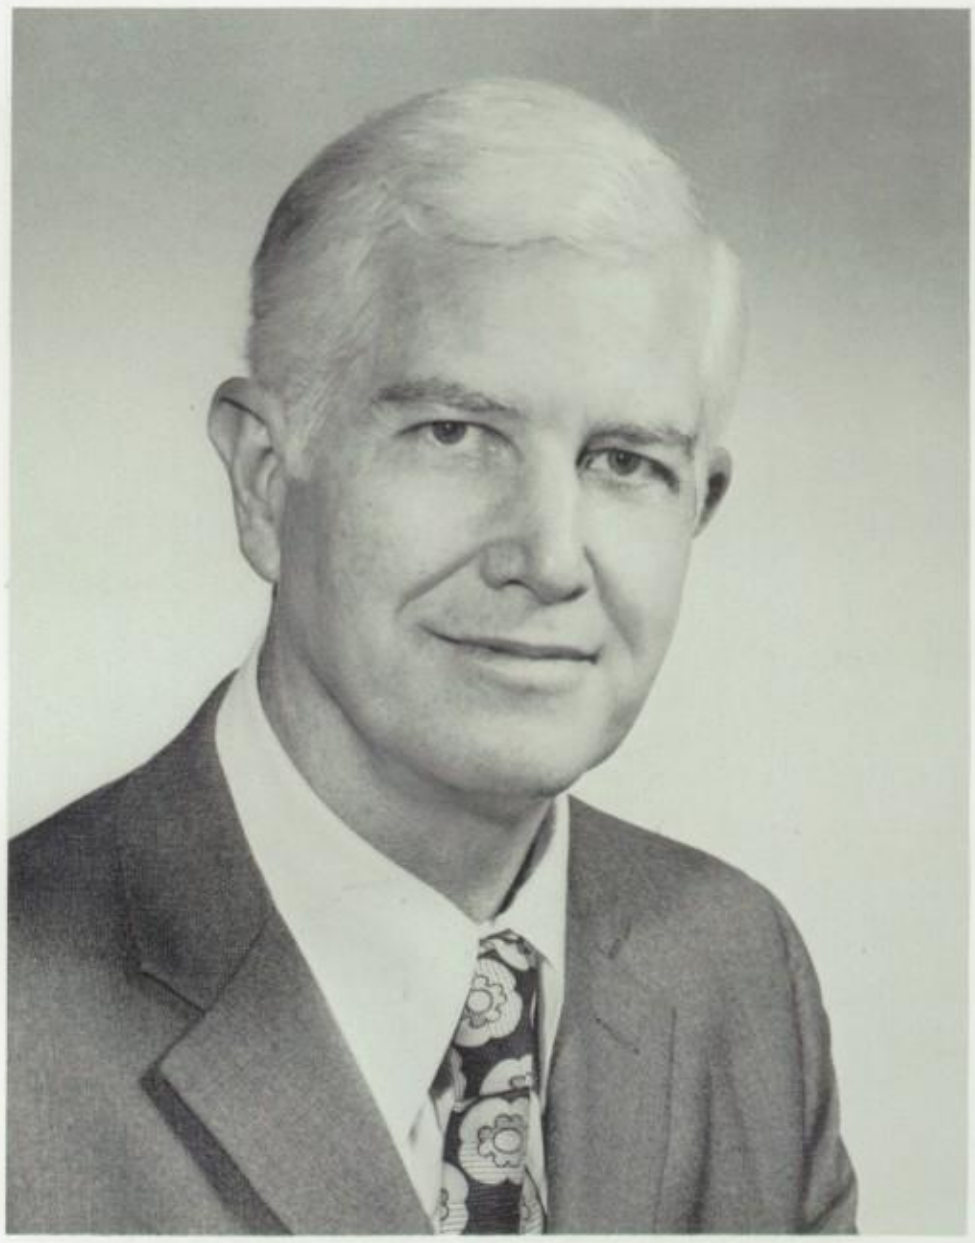
ACADEMICS



Editor
Phyllis Saunders

Superintendent Collier exemplifies an academic statesman



Mr. C. Wayne Collier has been superintendent of the Cumberland County school system for five years, although his time of service to this school system extends for twenty-four years. He worked in Cumberland County for nineteen years as principal, assistant superintendent, and associate superintendent before being appointed superintendent in August of 1972. During his tenure in office, he has been influential in advancing the reputation of the Cumberland County schools, determined that these schools flow in today's mainstream of education. Constantly he studies his product and projects its results.

Mr. Collier is an unassuming man who does not make waves, but the kind of man who influences the depth of water. His is authoritative without being domineering, persuasive without being belittling as he strives to administer the policies of the Board of Education. His well-organized mind is constantly functioning in the management of all facets of his school system, and his leadership exemplifies his firm faith that his co-workers go about their duties guided by his high standards and his unassuming zeal to succeed.

Mr. Collier is undoubtedly one of the great educators of North Carolina. His exceptionally effective approach for helping to fashion the trends of public education in the state is greatly respected by those with whom he works. He is, in the best sense of the word, an academic statesman.

Mr. Horton completes eighth year as principal of CFH

A man of pre-eminent talents, Mr. George W.J. Horton is, first of all, an educator who believes in young people. He respects the individual, his rights and privileges, but he expects individuals to exemplify good judgment and a strong sense of responsibility.

Mr. Horton has been principal for CFH for all eight years of its existence and has an abounding love for the school and its students. Although he stresses the importance of academic pursuits and provides the necessary facilities conducive to purposeful study, he shows a sincere interest in extracurricular activities. Supporting the Colts in all athletic events, he is our greatest fan and booster — our number one Colt!

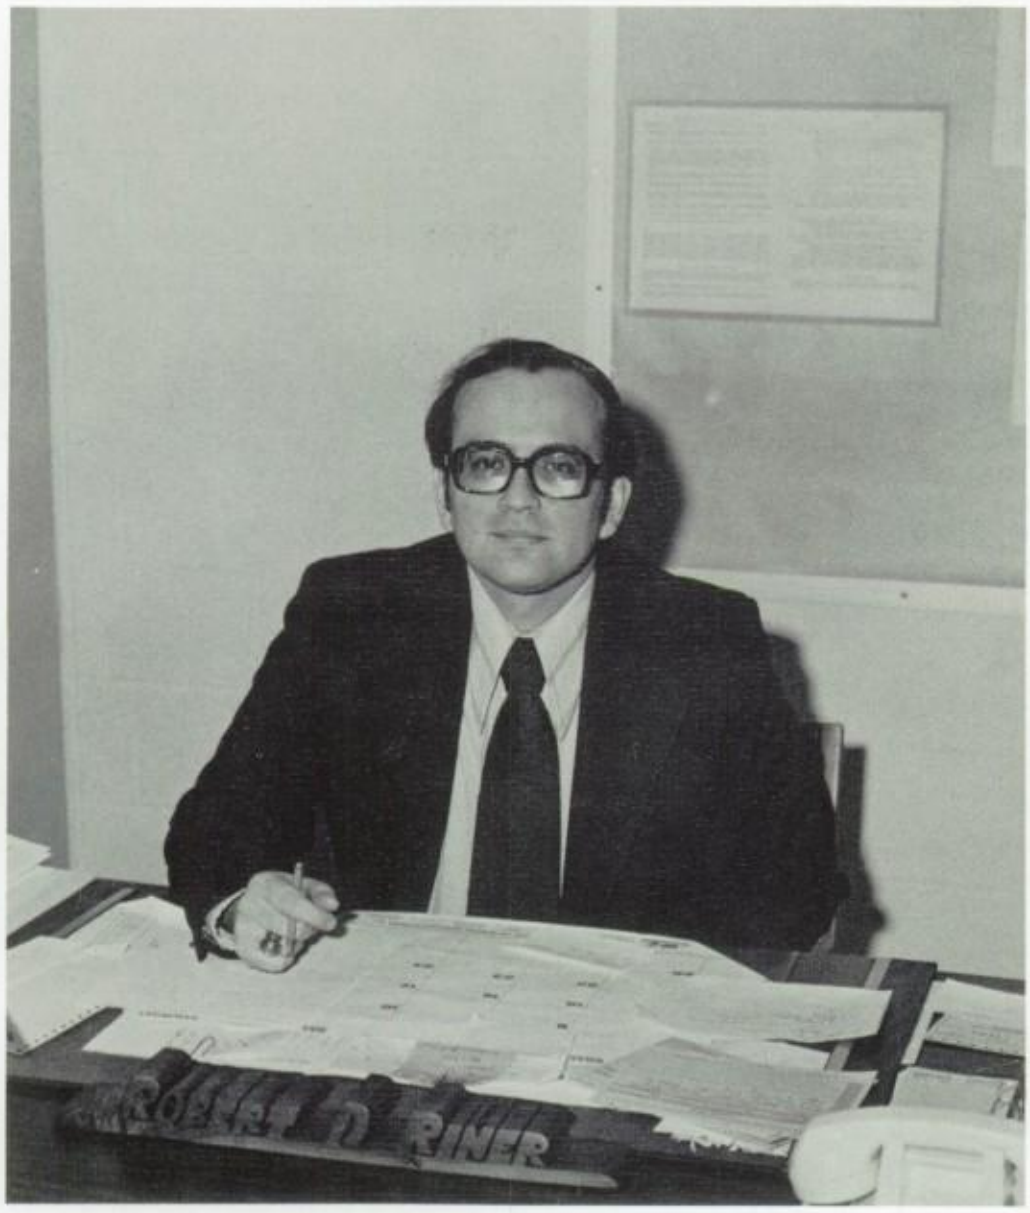
Mr. Horton is a teacher whose primary concern is his students; a leader whose chief interest is the welfare of his school; and an administrator whose efforts are directed toward the cooperative solution of mutual problems.

Mr. Pugh serves as athletic director for third consecutive year

As assistant principal in charge of transportation, Mr. David L. Pugh has the tedious task of providing transportation for over one thousand students and eleven schools. This awesome responsibility is handled with maximum efficiency and careful attention.

Being the father of two sons, Mr. Pugh is interested in all teen-agers. He respects them as individuals and has confidence in their abilities as young adults. He is often heard praising them for achievements or forgiving them for mistakes.

An avid sports fan and former coach, Mr. Pugh is now athletic director and enthusiastically supports all athletic events. He has never ceased loving and supporting the athletic program, which indicates his total involvement in Cape Fear High School.



Mr. Riner adds something positive to CFH

Mr. Robert D. Riner is an understanding yet firm administrator who is in charge of record keeping and student attendance. He has a friendly, down-to-earth quality that is too seldom found in intellectuals. With the patience of Job, he combines intelligence, godliness, good humor, and good judgment. Probably because he is so very interested in young people, he is a good communicator who understand students.

In the office, in the halls, on the campus, everywhere he is, Mr. Riner adds something positive to Cape Fear High.

Mr. Autry demonstrates genuine concern for curriculum

As principal in charge in student affairs, Mr. William S. Autry is Mr. Horton's right arm and a man of cardinal importance. He has the gift of thinking through a problem and arriving at the practical and wise decision. Neither radical nor conservative,he has an intuition perception of the golden mean; he is what Shakespeare calls a "heavenly mingle."

The students of CFH know that Mr. Autry is their friend, but when walking into his office, they know he is not their pal. He offers understanding when needed; administers punishment when necessary. One might walk into his office in tears but walks out with a straighter back, a clearer mind, and a faint smile.

Pearl Buck surely had Mr. Autry in mind when she wrote: A great and true teacher thinks of the child, he sees his visions not in himself but in the flowering of the child into manhood and womanhood. He thinks of the child first and always, not of himself."

Our dream is finished.
Through laughter and shouting,
joy and anger,
Our state of mind, our love of creativity
Has realized our dream of beauty.
We will go from this school soon.
Our dream book will stay here . . .
And too, it will go with us.
And when we are forgotten, our book,
Our dream, will remain.
Through sorrow, strife, joy, laughter
Realized . . .
And once realized, precious,
Beautiful, treasured,
Eternal.
The creator? Far away,
Forgotten
Yet his dream lives on.
The dream is finished.
Yesterday is gone, and Tomorrow waits.

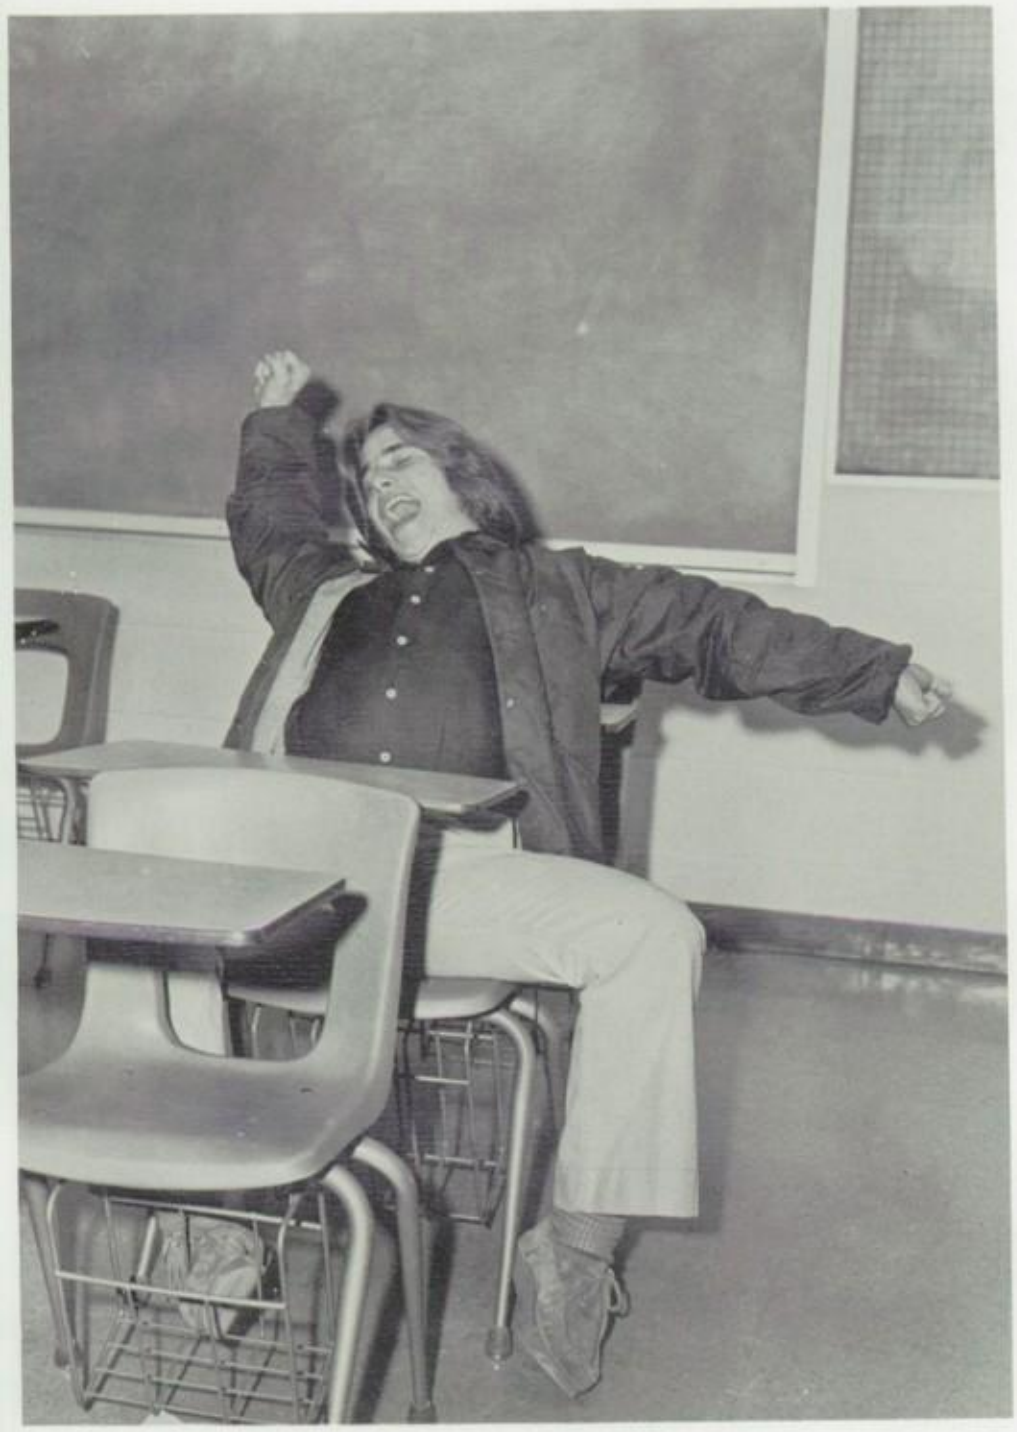
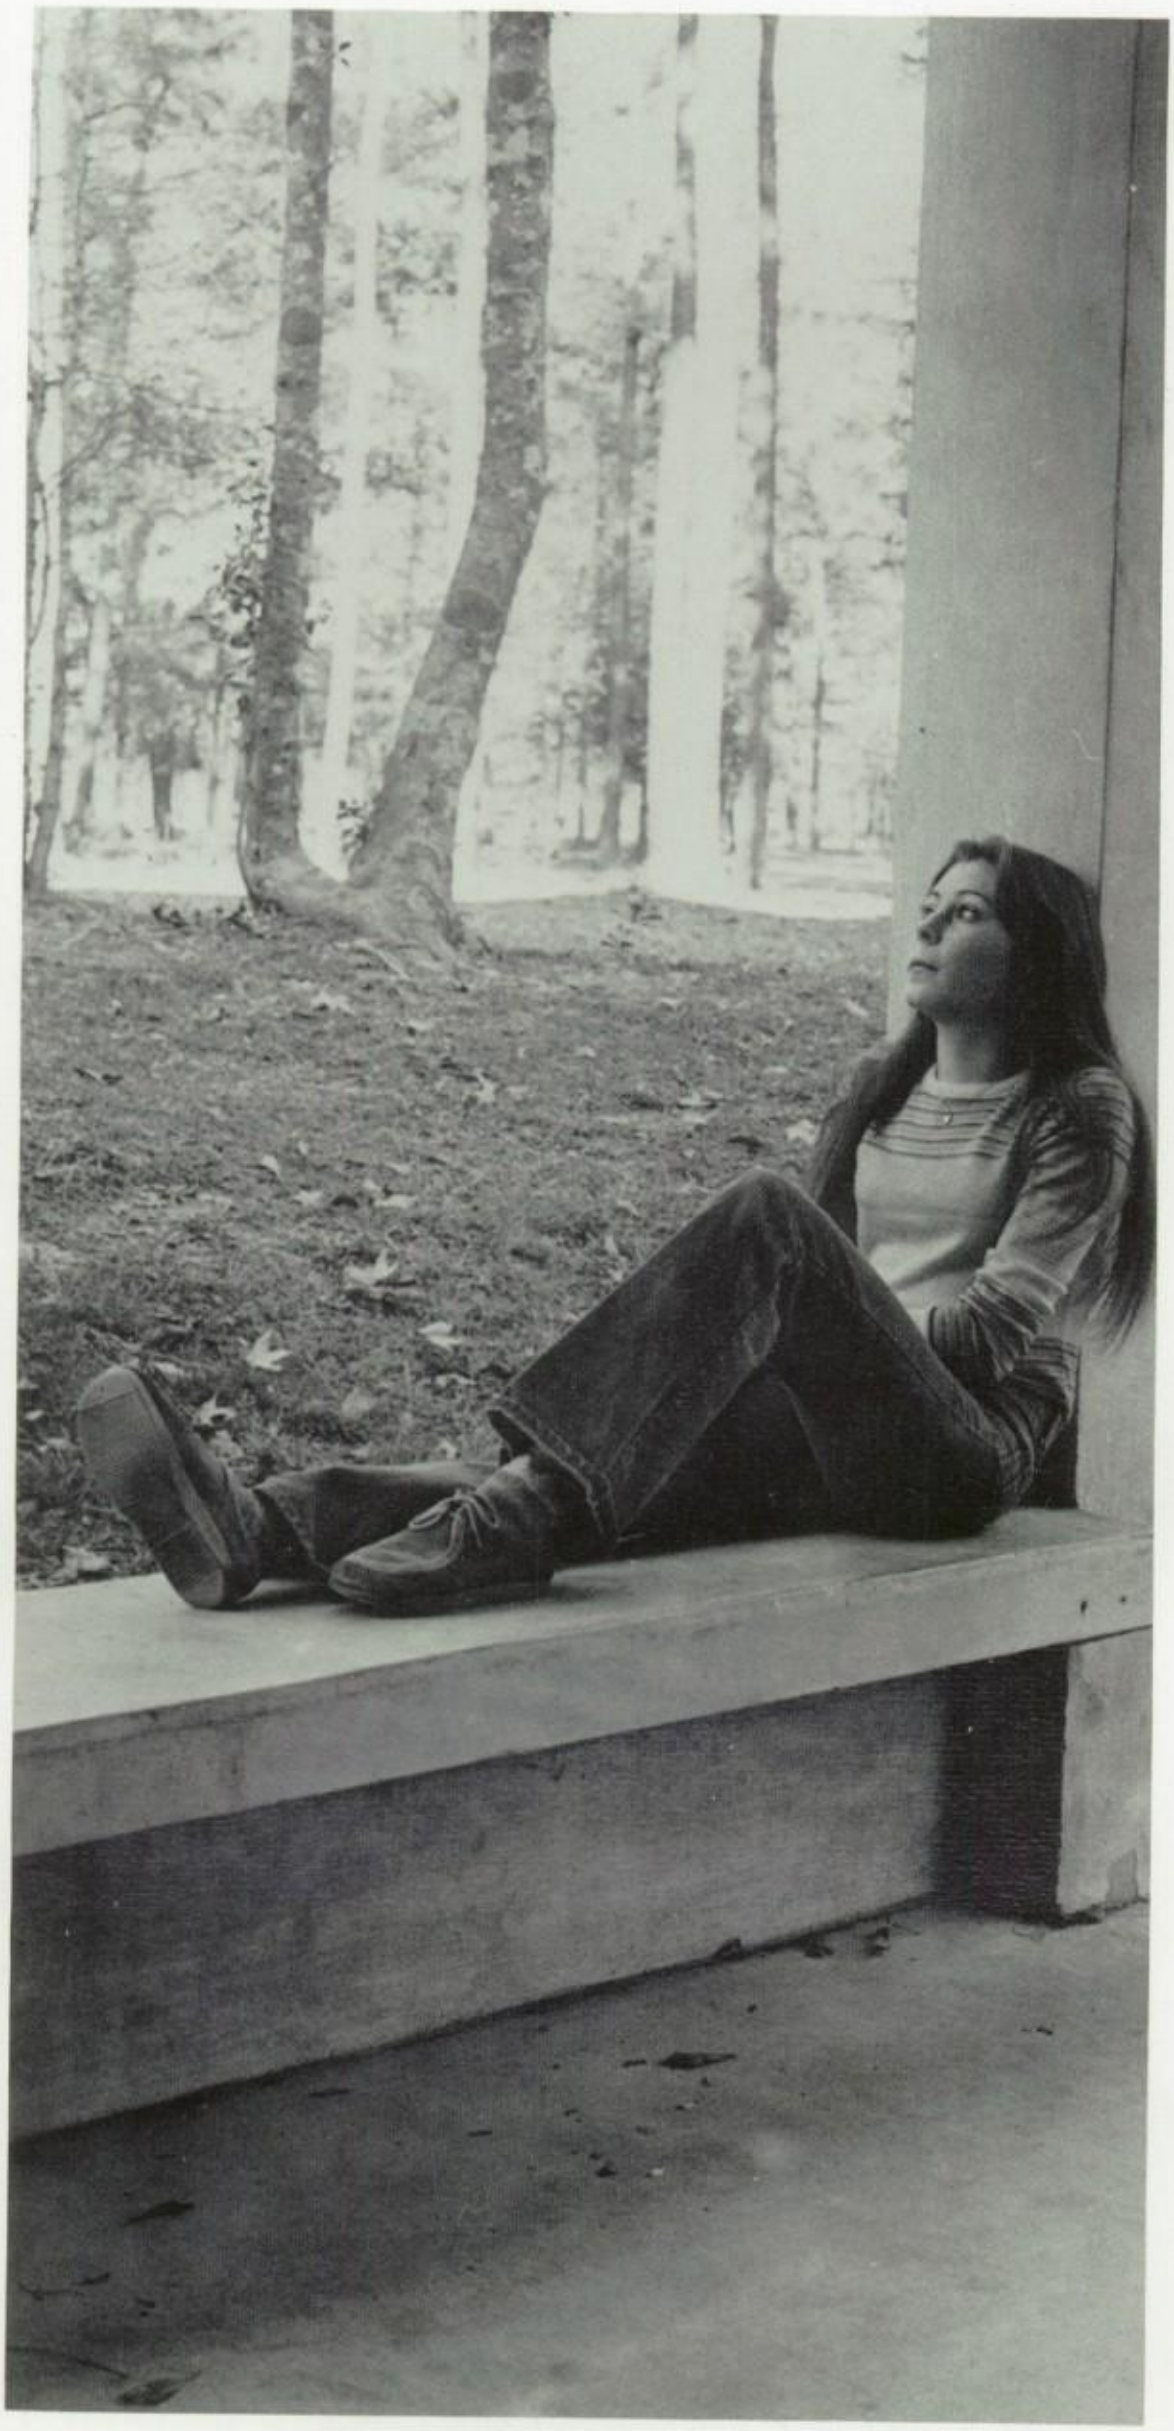
EASE ON DOWN THE ROAD...

Glen Carter





The dream has ended but the memories linger on . . .
Working in an unheated building
On a sub-freezing Saturday,
Canceling dates on Sundays and
Defying the Fourth Commandment,
Waiting and waiting for pictures,
And proofs,
Panic of the final deadline, then
Missing it,
The Thrill of seeing the finished Product,
Knowing we did it all!

The dream of friendship and devotion . . .
Of an alumnus, sacrificing
Week-ends, and vacation,
Using his camera as a tool to Offer us a visual recollection of Daily life.
And we, in turn, offering him,
Bill Haynes, our profound love.
Of our school photographer,
Carlton Hubbard,
Capturing and preserving memories
By unselfishly giving his time,
Energy, enthusiasm, and dedication
To make this dream a reality.

So this dream ends, and spirit and enthusiasm dim for another year,
But the memories we have made will linger on . . .
In a never-ending parade of Classes, sports, activities,
And people which make up Cape Fear High.

Only a challenge remains, dreams of the future.

Debbie,

How can I begin to tell you just how much you mean to me. You have been such a great help to me, and you're one of the nicest people I know. You brought my problems to you more than once and you always cared. You really gave me some good advice which helped more than you'll ever know. I know you got tired of hearing me speak of you-know-who all the time, but you never said so or even acted like you did. I shall cherish your friendship forever, and I hope to see you from time to time. Thanks for everything!

Love,
Melinda Hall

Miss Williams,
You are one of the nicest teachers or what have you I have ever met. I hope if and when I come up there I see you. Good luck there and everywhere else. I hope when you do get married you have a good life. See you around maybe. Remember the trip to Charleston.

Love ya

Debbie,

Hi! How are you, I'm mean to you aint I. Ha! Ha! Don't give up I'll be back next year (hopefully) I hope you and Peter get along all right and stay together. I don't really know what to say so I'll shut up. See ya, around. Be good and stay sweet.

Take care,

Donna Kay Green

Debbie,

Sure was glad to hear from you. I've been meaning to write you back but I was doing so many things. Oh well I'm glad it turned out the way it did. I'm sure you'll be happy. I'm glad to hear you're getting married. Best of luck with the baby. Good luck with everything.

Always,
